Umpire's Corner

Question (LXXXVIII)

What is foot-faulting? What are the umpire's powers if foot-faulting occurs?

Answer

If, before delivery, a player does not stand with one foot fully on the mat and if, at the moment of delivering the jack or bowl, a player does not have part of one foot on or above the mat. (Law 7.1)

Give the player a warning in the presence of the skip, then the next time it happens stop the bowl and declare it dead. (Law 8.1, 8.2)

Question (LXXXIX)

In the above scenario b) what if the umpire is unable to stop the bowl?

Wanted

A current non-playing member of Burnside and past playing member and sponsor of Burnside, Jim Jaques, is looking for a set of Dreamline XG's (or similar) size 3 if anyone has a set for sale. Jim who can be reached on 0274488781 is in a retirement village and they are laying a bowling green presently and he would like a good set of bowls to kick his bowling career back into action.
